Photographers are often asked to provide a small photo of the couple or a group of guests as a keepsake. This is a common request and can be a nice touch for the couple. However, it is important to be clear about what you are providing and to make sure you are not violating any copyright or privacy laws.

When you are asked for a photo, it is important to be clear about what you are providing. Are you providing a photo of the couple? A photo of a group of guests? A photo of the wedding venue? It is important to be clear about what you are providing and to make sure you are not violating any copyright or privacy laws.
